

Harvard Model United Nations

May 1, 2017

Dear Faculty Advisors,

It is again my pleasure to welcome you to the Sixty-Fifth Session of Harvard Model United Nations. For the past several conferences, we have consistently worked to improve the experience of our Faculty Advisors. Our more recent innovations include the HMUN Faculty Advisor Discussion Panel, in which we bring together Faculty Advisors of varying levels of experience and diverse backgrounds to discuss the strategies, best practices, challenges, and rewards of advising a high school model United Nations team. We will be continuing this Panel at HMUN 2018. The Panel will take place during the afternoon committee session on Saturday, January 27, 2018.

We invite you to fill out the Faculty Advisor Discussion Panel Application attached to this letter! We will choose a panel of Faculty Advisors from a range of model United Nations programs—from established to fledgling model UN teams, student-spearheaded or school-supported programs, and both domestic and international schools. All Faculty Advisors are encouraged to attend the presentation, to ask questions of the panelists, and to share their own opinions and insights. Please note that application to the Faculty Advisor Discussion Panel will have no bearing on your school's HMUN application decision or country assignments.

Faculty Advisors who are interested in speaking on the Faculty Advisor Discussion Panel should complete the Application on the next page and email the completed document to info@harvardmun.org by October 11, 2017. Faculty Advisors who are selected to participate in the panel will have their Faculty Advisor fee waived. We anticipate that the Faculty Advisors' Panel at HMUN 2018 will be a starting point for many fruitful discussions on the advisor's model UN experience at our sixty-fifth session, and we hope that you will share in this budding HMUN tradition.

Thank you very much for your commitment to Harvard Model United Nations!

Best,
